About Us

PICO is a firm that offers its clients access to industry-specific specialists, consultants and subject matter expertise.

We are an indigenous brand under which professionals partner to provide services to our clients. PICO partners with and supports its clients to implement strategy, solve business problems and effect change management through the skilful use of tools, techniques and expertise.

Our interactive collaborative techniques produce buy-in from your team. We assist them in knowing who does what, when, and how in order to reach goals.

PICO was started by Joseph Sass CA (SA) and Heinrich Jermane CA (SA). Joe Mark Lippert BA (Johns Hopkins University) MCom (UCT) joined them later.

The business was started in Cape Town, in response to continued demand for professional services in previously under serviced sectors of the local economy and has since grown to include small, medium and public sector clients.

Vision

We strive to be globally competitive, economically responsible and environmentally aware.

Ethics & Values

We take professional ethics seriously. If we don't have the time or ability to solve your problem, we'll tell you promptly and help you find someone who can. We want our names associated with excellent work and ethical conduct.
